

Saturday 1st July - 6.00pm
A summer evening of music on Troopers Hill.

Organised with
Arts at St Aidan's.
Music from the
Bristol East Band

Bring a picnic and drinks to enjoy the wonderful views over Bristol from the top of Troopers Hill Local Nature Reserve while listening to the sound of this superb brass band. We recommend that you bring blankets or cushions to sit on.

Please respect our Nature Reserve by not bringing disposable BBQs since these damage the grassland. If the weather is unkind we will decamp to St. Aidan's Church Hall. The normal charge for these concerts is £6 per person. Please give as generously as you can to support the work of the Friends of Troopers Hill and Arts at St Aidan's. A £6 donation will get you a magical wristband that will both protect you from collectors and enter you in a prize draw with the 1st prize of a hot air balloon flight. Get one in advance –contact Susan on 0117 947 5037.

Troopers Hill Local Nature Reserve

Troopers Hill in St George, East Bristol, is on a hillside overlooking the River Avon that has been quarried and mined in the past. The hill contains a fascinating mix of history, wild plants and animals. With heather and broom, rocky crags, spoil heaps and gullies, stunning views and two listed chimneys, Troopers Hill is one of the most spectacular wildlife spots in the city.
